STAFFORD STREET DENTAL CARE

We would love you to come and have a look round our practice! It is situated in a great street, Stafford Street in Edinburgh. There are designer boutiques, hairdressers, beauty salons ... and our dental practice!

Start at the front door, our mat is laid out, our information banner is up, and you can have a look in without venturing inside! This place looks amazing! Come back tomorrow for another look!

So you've stepped inside. You have an impression of space and brightness. The curving staircase leads up, but you notice the receptionist smiling at you so you enter the reception room. Here the brightness is overwhelming. There isn't any elevator music but you can hear water flowing, it's a fountain. Kirsty, who is one of our welcome team introduces herself and shakes hands with you, greets you. Then you take a seat on the comfortable sofa. What about a coffee, cappuccino, latte or herbal tea? Kirsty then takes you on a tour of the rest of the premises. There is so much space! (And there don't seem to be any rooms full of broken equipment or cardboard boxes.)

The downstairs surgery looks fabulous you spot that you can have a seat and a chat without sitting in the dental chair. There is no clutter; a beautiful picture of a country lane on the wall.

Kirsty takes you on up the stairs to the patient lounge, which looks the size of a ballroom. There are more comfy leather sofas, flowers, and art on the walls. It's not too isolated here though, the practice manager is working at the attractive office area, and some kids are playing a racing game on the TV in the corner. (It's quite small and discreet, we think our patients get enough sensory overload all day and they appreciate a moment of peace and quiet and time to themselves when they come to us).

Kirsty leads you into the next treatment room and you have to say "wow!" There is even more space a seating area at the window even the dental chairs are a relaxing lavender blue. (I work there all day and I am always happy!)

On the same floor is the hygienist surgery or the little pink room! This is not so spacious but it works, and the chair is the comfiest in the place.

Kirsty takes you up to the top floor and lets you have a quick look into the central sterilisation area, seems fine.

There is still one more surgery here, usually the home of Dr Robin Jeunet Mancy.

There is a beautiful picture of the Matterhorn to remind him of Switzerland.

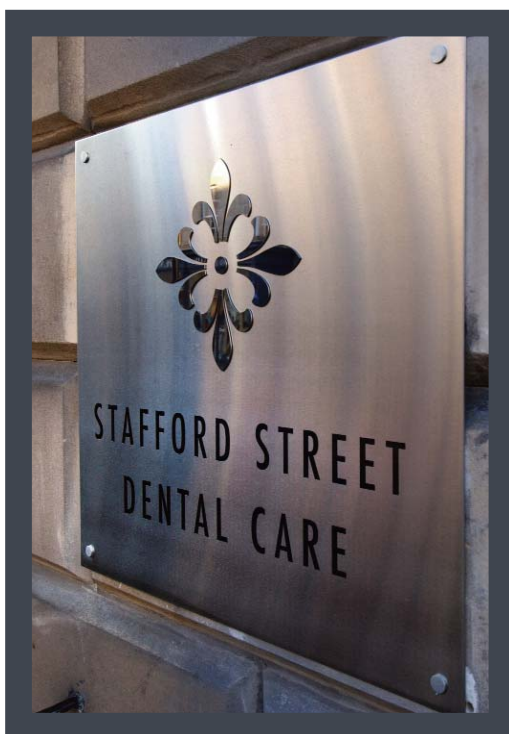

You are amazed by our practice. Actually you have never seen such incredible premises since you stayed at the Malmaison Hotel!

STAFFORD STREET DENTAL CARE

This is what our patients have to say...

"As someone who has had unpleasant experience with previous dentists, I was rather anxious about transferring to a new practice. I need not have had any inhibitions, however, because on entering your practice, I was immediately made most welcome by everyone and was particularly put at ease by Gillian Maidment. The level of personal attention, a first class appointment system, reception room comfort and brightness, and above all the professionalism and friendliness of all whom I have been involved. I sincerely wish I had been aware of your practice many years earlier! Regards to all."

"I am pleased to comment that the dental practice at Stafford Street is a fabulous environment. The premises are relaxing and inviting. My treatment has been great and I am very pleased with my white smile."

"I find the atmosphere in the new practice far more relaxing, which is just the ticket. The décor is fresh, light and airy with interesting art works and magazines for distraction. I find it quite enjoyable visiting the dentist! If this was the intention, it was very well planned."

"I have been a patient for a number of years and have found the new practice to be exceptional. Since relocating last year the new practice is even more welcoming and accommodating to every requirement, and as a patient with a disability this is of the utmost importance."

"I am very impressed with the new facilities at the practice in Stafford Street. The pleasant environment and improved services, together with the friendly and professional team ensure that a visit to the dentist is a more pleasant experience for this somewhat anxious patient."

"What a difference the new practice makes! I used to go to the old practice premises, which were pretty old fashioned, and a bit dark. The new surgery in Stafford Street is wonderful! It is almost!! A joy to go to the dentist!"

"I would like to express my thanks for all the work that has been done to make me want to smile. I used to have a big fear of the Dentist and always put off going. Robin is very good at putting people at ease & explaining what he is going to do, I am extremely glad I joined this practice as otherwise I think my teeth would be in a bad state."

"I have been a patient at Chester Street practice for many years and was very pleased with the treatment there so I was interested to see what would be different after the move to Stafford Street. The new practice is even better and much improved. It now offers teeth whitening and implants and has increased hygienist facilities which together with the additional dentists offers a much improved service all within a friendly and professional atmosphere."
